- Commitment to teaching and research excellence at the undergraduate and post-graduate levels both across and within multiple disciplines.
- An understanding of resources needed to support teaching and research excellence, including integrating technological advances to enhance higher education.
- A track record of initiating and developing partnerships with other organisations, nationally, regionally and internationally.
- Demonstrated ability to recruit and work collaboratively with a diverse faculty and administration.
- Capacity to engage and inspire the academic community at the University level and at the national level.
- Demonstrated commitment to student centredness and student success.

Qualifications and Experience:

- An earned doctorate from an accredited and recognised higher education institution.
- Superior interpersonal skills, including a commitment to listening, problem solving and consensus building.
- Demonstrated success in promoting and sustaining organisational change and innovation, in the context of the University's Mission of discovering and developing entrepreneurs.

Preference will be given to nationals of Trinidad and Tobago.

Applicants, who have previously applied for this position, will be required to re-apply if interested.
